

FRENCH VISITORS, BEARING RODIN BUST, TO BE GUESTS HERE

Distinguished Frenchmen to Arrive in Washington Tonight.

Members of the French delegation bringing the bust of "La France" by Rodin will arrive in the city this evening from New York to be entertained by the French embassy tomorrow and by President Taft at a luncheon Tuesday noon. Tomorrow morning the delegation, which is headed by M. Gabriel Hanotaux, former minister of foreign affairs, will go to Mt. Vernon and place a floral wreath on Washington's tomb. In the afternoon at 4:30 the French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand will give a reception at the French embassy for the visitors and will entertain them at dinner later.

It is not until Friday that the delegation arrives at Fort "Monteregia" and Crown Point on Lake Champlain. It is at the Crown Point memorial lighthouse that the Rodin bust will be placed as a memorial gift by the people of France to the United States in memory of the discovery of the lake by the explorer whose name it bears.

Hanotaux and his associates will leave Washington immediately after the White House luncheon for New York. The evening of that day they are to be guests of honor at a reception at Columbia University. Wednesday they are to be in Philadelphia, where "Champlain Tower" will give a luncheon in their honor. On Thursday the visitors start for Crown Point.

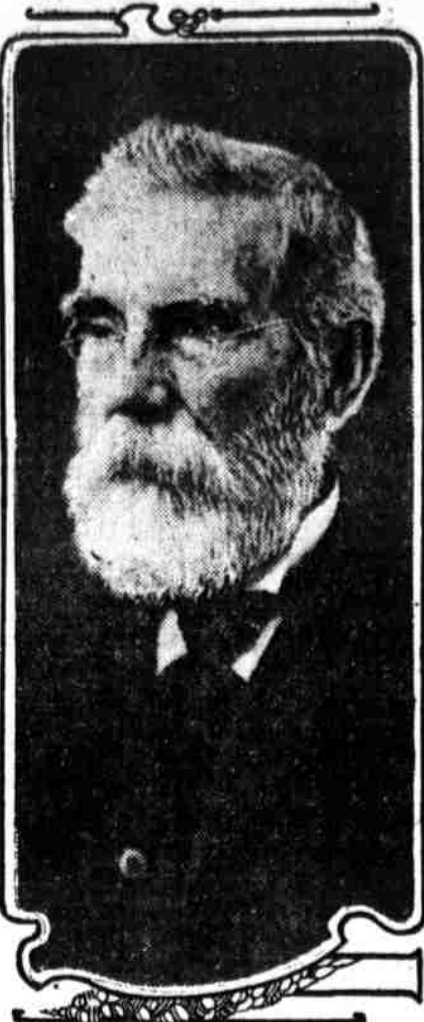

The party arrived in New York yesterday and was given a reception by Mayor Gaynor at the city hall.

Besides M. Hanotaux and Count de Chambrun, the party includes M. René Bazin, of the French Academy; Senator Baron d'Estournelles de Constant; H. Louis Barthou, member of the chamber of deputies, former minister of public works and former minister of justice; General Lebon, grand officer of the Legion of Honor; M. Fernand Cornon, member of the Academy of Fine Arts; M. Etienne Lamy, of the French Academy; M. Vidal de Lablache, member of the institute; Count de Rochambeau, M. Leon Barthou, of the Aero Club of France; M. Hieriot, aviator, the first man to fly across the Straits of Dover from France to England in an aeroplane; M. Girard, Duke de Choiseul, M. Dal Piaz, member of the committee France-America and general manager of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique; General Brugere.

KNAPP IS HOPEFUL ROADS AND ENGINEERS WILL BRIDGE BREACH

Member of Commerce Court Thinks Arbitration Will Be Successful in Strike.

"The outlook for settlement of the wage dispute between the railroads and their engineers is quite hopeful," said Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Court, commissioner with Dr. Charles P. Neill, under the Erdman act. "Progress toward arbitration of the dispute is being made and discussion of how an arbitration board should be made up will occupy the next few days at least. A further statement than this would not be helpful at this time, but Dr. Neill and myself believe good progress is being made."

Judge Knapp, who came here to spend Sunday, will return to New York late tonight or tomorrow morning. He and Dr. Neill will have their next meeting with the engineers, represented by Warren S. Stone, their grand chief and chairman of the subcommittee which is handling the wage increase proposition. It is highly likely a number of conferences more will have to be held by the Erdman act commissioners with both sides before the make-up of the arbitral body is determined upon satisfactorily.

Both engineers and railroad officials have ceased to give out statements in New York and elsewhere regarding the dispute. This is the result of a request by Judge Knapp and Dr. Neill, who believe while negotiations are on, an agreement is much more likely to be effected if neither party in contention issues public statements which may irritate their opponents.

T. A. McKee Remembered.

In appreciation of his courtesies to the Association of Worshipful Masters of 1905, Townley A. McKee has been presented by members of the association with a handsome eight-day clock. On a number of occasions Mr. McKee permitted the association to hold its meetings in his apartments and extended other courtesies. Last night twenty odd masters, headed by Past Grand Master Lurin R. Ginn, called on Mr. McKee at the Hotel Gordon and presented him the gift.

Urges Home for Masons.

Carter B. Keene, president of the Association of Worshipful Masters, urged that a home be erected in Washington for the widows of Masons, members of the Eastern Star who need aid, orphans, and for Masons in distress. He spoke at a dinner given by the association last night at the Villa Flora Club.

MANY INTERESTED IN FUND TO BUILD HERO'S MEMORIAL

Entertainment to Be Given in New Willard to Start Ball Rolling.

Members of Congress and Washington society are joining hands in an endeavor to collect a great fund for the erection of a memorial to the memory of Major Archibald Butt, Col. John Jacob Astor, Clarence Moore, J. D. Millet, and the other men who died heroes as the steamship Titanic sank.

Definite steps are now being taken for the starting of a fund with which to erect the memorial. On the night of May 9 in the New Willard, Mrs. Evelyn Gurley-Kane will give a recital of "Ben Hur." The proceeds will be used as a foundation for the fund.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the New Willard, by special request Mrs. Gurley-Kane will give a reading of her own adaptation of the famous Justin Huntley McCarthy's "If I Were King." There are to be present members of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and prominent society persons who are actively interested with Mrs. Gurley-Kane in her undertaking. It is hoped to realize over $1,000 at the recital at the New Willard. This money will be placed in one of the city's banks as the beginning of a fund to erect the memorial. Requests for tickets are now being received at the New Willard newsstand.

After the recital it is planned for a committee on finance to open offices in the city of Washington to receive donations from the public-spirited and patriotic American citizens who seem so anxious to do what the memory of these heroes be perpetuated by the erection of a memorial.

Boy Scouts' Show Is Decided Success

The performance given by Boy Scouts at the Arcade yesterday under the direction of Ernest Thompson Seton was a greater success than even the lads had anticipated. Drills and songs went through without a hitch and the audience was large, generous with applause, and fashionable, many of the girls' seminaries in and near Washington sending delegations.

A feature that made a particular hit was the Indian dances in which thirty Scouts, led by Seton, all clad in Indian regalia, joined. The prizes awarded Scouts for ticket sales were given to David Gates, John Goetz, and Edward Wild.

CLERK RETIREMENT BULLETIN SUBJECT

Committee Calls Attention to Recommendations Made by Civil Service Commission.

Attention is called by the committee of one hundred in this week's bulletin to the recommendations made by the Civil Service Commission at various times in the matter of superannuation and retirement of Government clerks. The bulletin says:

"In 1897 the Secretary of the Treasury created an honorable service roll for employees seventy years of age and over, to which roll all employees reaching that age were to be transferred at a salary of $800 per year. Congress promptly put a stop to this practice because it savored of a civil pension list."

"Thus the first attempt to lessen the evils of superannuation came to naught and the problem remains as serious as before. That it was a serious problem was recognized by the commission, especially as many employees were in high grade positions, having supervision of the work of others. The commission has frequently admitted the difficulty of dismissing old employees who have become incapacitated after long and faithful and efficient service, but realizes that some provision should be made so that the work of the Government may not be embarrassed by their retention."

Former Senator Dick, author of the bulletin, calls attention to the fact that the Civil Service Commission has repeatedly urged, as has the committee of one hundred, the need of reclassification of clerks as to their pay, the present classification having been established in the '50s.

WIVES OF DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN LISTED

Biographies of Women Will Be a Feature of Breakfast on May 20.

What promises to be one of the distinctive features of the Dolly Madison Harmony Breakfast, to be given by the wives of the Democratic members of Congress, at Rauscher's, May 20, will be the publication for the first time of a "Who's Who in Democratic Feminine Circles," comprising the names and biographies of the wives or nearest women relative of Democratic legislators.

While there is a Congressional Directory giving the names and a brief biography of all members of Congress, Mrs. Champ Clark, who is sponsor for the idea, says there never has before been an attempt to list the wives of Congressmen. Each biography will be limited to 100 words, and when published will be used as a souvenir at the breakfast.

Mrs. Robert C. Wickliffe, of Louisiana, and Mrs. Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, were appointed a committee to compile the pamphlet at a meeting of the Democratic women of the Congressional Club yesterday. They in turn appointed the wife of a member of Congress from each State to submit to them the names and biographies of the wives of the Congressmen of her State.

Committee Favors Probe of Contributions

The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections made a favorable report last evening on the Culberson resolution directing an investigation of the campaign contributions made to the national committee and the national Congressional committee in the 1904 and 1908 campaigns. Senator Culberson has been urging this resolution for a long time. It has been repeatedly charged that the contributions to the Republican campaign fund were enormous.
